Thanks to the computer rendering shown above, given to us by Park & Planning staff, we are able to see how the Friendship Heights area will look when all three major projects—Chevy Chase Center, Hecht's and Geico—are built.

The Geico site (subject to final approval) will have three office buildings on Friendship Boulevard, two low-rise apartment buildings on Willard (across the street from the Willoughby), and townhouses internally.

The Chevy Chase Center site will have the new Giant, two new retail buildings on Wisconsin

Avenue, and an office building above the retail strip.

See the reverse side for a rendering and information on the Hecht's site.

Humphrey Park Work Progresses in Spite of Rain

As was noted last year when the Council discussed plans to renovate Hubert Humphrey Park, the brick walkways had become dangerously uneven, the fountain was leaking and had electrical problems, and the lighting was inadequate.

Now, despite our rainy spring, the end of construction is in sight. As this issue goes to press, the final phase is set to begin, which involves removing the remaining bricks up to the Village Center. The main entrance to the building will then be closed until the new pavers are installed.

Access to the Center will be from the patio door through the gate on Friendship Boulevard and the side door (by the soda machine).

We look forward to seeing and enjoying the finished product, and we appreciate your continued patience throughout this process.
